ABOUT
‘DON’T STOP YOUR FUTURE’

“This campaign is more than just a call for change.

It’s also a salute to many incredible organizations and heroes working to tackle the root causes of crime. Steel Warriors is one of those organizations.

We must raise serious youth violence to the top of the political agenda, where it belongs. I applaud those, such as artist and father Toby Mulligan, for demonstrating how everyone, each in their own way, can step forward and help bring about essential social change.”

– IDRIS ELBA –

“A nation where young lives are built on steel, not destroyed by it, is within our collective reach. I’m hugely grateful to those who share in and are creatively inspired by our mission.”

– BEN WINTOUR, FOUNDER, STEEL WARRIORS –

“Art should always be with purpose and intent, and at its most authentic, ideally play some small part in something much bigger.”

– TOBY MULLIGAN –

ABOUT STEEL WARRIORS

STEEL WARRIORS melts down knives taken off London's streets and recycles the steel into outdoor calisthenics gyms.

Steel Warriors is an anti-knife crime charity that melt down knives taken off the streets and recycles the steel into outdoor street gyms. We use street workout to transform the lives of young people affected by crime, violence and social exclusion, giving them the skills and confidence they need to create positive futures.

Our mission is to build a UK-wide network of gyms, a street workout movement, that not only empowers young people to realise their passions and pursue their goals, but also fosters stronger, closer and more loving communities.

Steel Warriors was established in 2017 by founders Ben Wintour and Pia Fontes who then, as now, remain driven by a desire to challenge conventional approaches to knife crime.

A nation where young lives are built on steel, not destroyed by it, is within our collective reach.

TOBY MULLIGAN'S AWARD-WINNING WORK EXPRESSES A DEEP-SEATED DRIVE FOR EXPLORATION, MEANING AND HUMAN CONNECTION.

Unmistakable in style, Toby Mulligan's distinctive contemporary originals have won him critical and public acclaim, asserting his place as a major force in British contemporary art.

Mulligan works in a variety of media, from oils to charcoal on paper and inks. He is deeply engaged with the physical creative process so often grinds his own pigments and has been known to experiment with varnishes, wax, medieval paint recipes and rolls of wallpaper.

Mulligan's dynamic and expressive paintings can be found in collections ranging from Mick Jagger's French chateau to the National Portrait Gallery in Edinburgh, and his portfolio of portraits includes a personal commission from Roger Federer and a BP Portrait Award selection.

On his 'Icons of Our Time' collection, Toby offers, "I loved the idea of a cause-driven portrait collection. There are so many different forces and impulses that drive and inspire me to create, but this project felt so pure – bringing together cultural iconography and portraiture for positive social impact. Art should always be with purpose and intent, and at its most authentic, ideally play some small part in something much bigger."

CINEMA – by TOBY MULLIGAN

Cinema legend
 Morgan Freeman, in his own words...
 "Watch an artist in action – AMAZING portrait by Toby Mulligan!"
 @Morgan_Freeman

"We think we know them, or certainly something of them. Their films, their 'canon', their profound contribution to their craft, their seemingly unique combination of character, charisma and star presence that has informed and driven their fame and following. But let us revisit who and what we think we know. There is always another lens."

- TOBY MULLIGAN

Toby Mulligan's 'ICONS OF OUR TIME' is a new collection of original and unique portraits, a collection of 10 icons of cinema, faces both familiar to us all, but newly seen and rendered through the inimitable style and interpretation of an artist at the height of his powers.

THE 10 – Angela Bassett, Angelina Jolie, Idris Elba, Jamie Foxx, Julia Roberts, Patrick Stewart, Priyanka Chopra, Timothée Chalamet, Tom Hiddleston and Zendaya.

'ICONS OF OUR TIME' is a cause-driven portrait collection, with each piece to be auctioned for charity, with 100% of proceeds donated to STEEL WARRIORS.

Following the APRIL 18th auction of Toby's CINEMA collection, SPORT and MUSIC portrait collections are planned for later in 2024 and in 2025.

NB: MORGAN FREEMAN sits outside the forthcoming Cinema collection and is available for purchase through Clarendon Fine Art.
